Sir, reception seems alright. It seems the unexpected turn at the end worked.
It looks like this one will go well ! Congratulations !
No need to congratulate me. It was meant to be.
But, sir ? You were worried because its rating was 18+ and its genre was horror.
Why would I worry ? You know how much money was poured into this project.
On the report, write that *,000,000 is possible.

Pardon ??
8 000 000 sir ?
Do you know why I was so busy last week visiting people ? It was to block any potentially good movies from opening before mine would
Are you joking, sir ? I mean, 200 is considered a success, sir. Why don't you call it 300
Why are you so pessimistic ? Do you want to bet ? I bet on 800
Call it 800. I am sure it can do even better than that B but ...
But ... this movie smells of maniatic tastes ...

Even though he wasn't hired for his ability initially, he is obviously the suitable candidate next president of the company as he brought the company into one of major film productions in Korea.
SJ 엔터테이먼트

Because he is too young, his title is only a chief project manager.
If he keeps going like this he will soon join the board of directors and then become the real president of the company
As long as I keep serving him I am bound to rise in ranks also !
